Fingerprint Law Change Sought

Plan Would Widen Scope And Tighten Enforcement

Amendment Provides Fee, and Registration Limited to Service Employees Obtaining Jobs

An amendment to the Palm Springs fingerprinting ordinance which will speed up its enforcement and broaden its scope will be presented to the City Council meeting Tuesday.

Proposed by Police Chief Kettmann on the basis of the Police Department's three years' experience with the present law, the amendment would:

1. Expand the law to cover gasoline service station employees, car wash employees, golf caddies, bus drivers, taxi drivers, on-sale bartenders, off-sale liquor employees, pest control service employees and swimming pool maintenance employees. Present law covers only employees of hotels, apartment houses, liquor establishments, night clubs, restaurants, and gardeners and domestic help.

2. REQUIRE PAYMENT of a $1 fingerprinting fee. Now the service is free and the cost to the Department borne by the city.

3. Limit the fingerprinting requirement to those actually obtaining jobs in the covered occupations. Present law requires all job-seekers in those lines to be printed.

In discussing the changes, which he reported have the endorsement of City Manager Peterson, Kettmann said experience has demonstrated the necessity of expanding the law to more persons having access to homes here, and of charging a fee.

But cost of the expansion would run to a sizeable sum unless a fee is charged. Currently the fingerprinting routine costs about $2 per person.

MOREOVER, KETTMANN estimated, about 60 per cent of the job-seekers now required to be printed never obtain jobs, never get a permanent Palm Springs address, and leave town without the Police Department being advised.

"This is an unnecessary and costly load," he said, "and affords no more protection than would a law requiring newly hired employees to be registered and fingerprinted within 48 hours after taking a job. The amendment would allow much tighter enforcement with the same staff."

He estimated 5,000 jobs seekers have been registered in the last 18 months, more than half of whom never obtained employment, but nevertheless cost the city $5,000 or more.

He proposed to post placards in all establishments affected by the amended law, notifying new employees they must register within 48 hours.

Verdict Withheld In Visitor's Death

Thomas Woodfolk of Los Angeles, a visitor here, died due to natural causes, it was reported after an autopsy was performed here Friday at Wiefels and Son Mortuary, but definite cause of death was withheld pending further tests.

Woodfolk was taken ill at 3:38 p.m., Wednesday, near 625 Lacy Road, and died at 2 a.m., the following day.

Only known survivor is his mother, of Macon, Georgia.

Boyd Proclaims Correction Week

Mayor Florian G. Boyd this week joined Gov. Goodwin J. Knight in urging all residents of California and Palm Springs to observe Correction Week August 26 through September 1.

The observance will be during the 88th annual Congress of Correction in Los Angeles, sponsored by the American Correctional Association. The association is dedicated to the prevention of delinquency and crime and the protection of society through rehabilitation of offenders.

$3000 Fire Hits Vacant Home Of Lee Hooper

Fire, apparently started by spontaneous combustion, caused an estimated $3,000 damage Friday morning to the home of Lee Hooper, 524 Calle Abronia.

The blaze started in the attic, and apparently had been smoldering for at least a day, according to Capt. C. F. Goff of Fire Station No. 1.

The Hoopers are currently on vacation, with no one in the house at the time the fire started. It was first reported by Valentino Detective Agency, with Fire Chief William Leonosio, who was driving by Calle Abronia on Ramon, noticing the smoke a few seconds later.

School Budget Public Hearing Due Tuesday

Public hearing on the proposed 1956-57 budget for the Palm Springs Unified School District will be held by the board of education at 2 p.m., Tuesday, August 7, at Frances S. Stevens School.

Total education budget as published in this issue of The Desert Sun on page 8, is $1,537,928.

In past years, the budget hearing has attracted only a few people, from five to 10 at the most.

Major portion of the budget is for instruction, $769,096.

Highway Group Urges 111 Be Made 4 Lanes

Widening of State Highway 111 to four lanes was among projects recommended to the State Highway Commission Friday by the Southern California Council's regional highway committee of the California State Chamber of Commerce.

This project was among four recommended for Riverside county on a "long-term planning" basis. Others in this category in this area include realignment and improvement of Highway 111 as required, from Indio along the Salton Sea, and the realignment of the Twentynine Palms Road from Whitewater to the county line.

Only desert area projects recommended for consideration in the 1957-58 budget are development of Highway 60-70-99 to a limited access four-lane divided roadway, from Thousand Palms to .8 of a mile north of the Indio overpass, and the widening of bridges and general realignment of Highway 60 and 70 from Blythe to Indio.

School Building Project Begins

With issuance of a $226,000 city building permit, construction of new classrooms at the Nellie Coffman Junior High School here was begun Friday by the California Construction Co.

The project will include a home science room, a woodshop, two special classrooms, a shower and dressing room.

It is being financed by the $2,125,000 bond issue of the Palm Springs Unified School District.

TWO MAJOR FIRES IN 36 HOURS

FIREMEN ON LADDERS fight the blaze at Desert Hotel, 281 North Indian Avenue, which caused an estimated $3000 damage before being brought under control. A large crowd gathered at the scene, even though it was close to midnight. (Anderson Photo).

AN ESTIMATED $3000 damage was caused to the home of Lee Hooper, 524 Calle Abronia, by fire Friday morning. Spontaneous combustion in the attic is believed responsible. The Hoopers are on vacation. (Desert Sun Photo).

Village and Indio Reach Accord on New Industries

An understanding whereby Indio, without protest from Palm Springs, will seek new industries while preventing their migration toward the Palm Springs area, was tentatively reached at a meeting Thursday of representatives of the Indio and Palm Springs chambers of commerce.

Three men from the Indio organization proposed the agreement as the result of a plan by the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce to send a group of 40 to 50 businessmen and five Southern California counties to an elaborate exhibit of light manufactured products in New York City in September.

INDIO, IT WAS said, has raised $5000 to send along two delegates to solicit light industries to locate plants in the Indio vicinity.

Its advance consultation with Palm Springs was considered an aftermath of last spring's controversy over the proposed location of an ore reduction plant near Thousand Palms. This was supported by Indio but fought by Palm Springs.

Prior to Thursday's meeting, the Palm Springs Chamber of Commerce had invited Dennis Flanagan, data and research manager of the Riverside County board of trade, to tell it what sort of industry that group planned to seek for the county. Flanagan explained the board of trade intended to leave the matter to the various chambers of commerce of the area.

THEREAFTER THE Indio delegates drafted the proposal that their community would seek industry, but agree not to locate it beyond the northwest Indio city limits. The proposal met considerable favor Thursday, on the reasoning that numerous executives of new Indio industries would probably live in Palm Springs and commute to their Indio plants.

On invitation of the Indio delegation, Tom Kiley and George Ripley of Palm Springs were appointed to work with the Indio group planning the Indio presentation at the New York show.

Council to Act On Financial Aide

City council Tuesday afternoon is expected to select a financial consultant to conduct an economic survey and aid in selling its proposed sewer bonds.

Firms competing for the contract award are J. B. Hanauer of Beverly Hills, and Stone and Youngberg of Los Angeles and San Francisco.

Way is Opened by Court's Reversal of Supervisors

County Ordered to Cancel Decision Denying Turf Club Race Permit Near Village

Desert Turf Club will request a new hearing before the Riverside county supervisors as soon as possible, in an effort to receive a land use permit for a quarterhorse race track in this area, Frank Bogert, president, said last weekend.

His comment came after he was notified of the action taken by San Bernardino Superior Court Judge R. Bruce Findlay, in which the supervisors were ordered to cancel their decision of March 28, 1955, in which the permit was denied.

Judge Findlay himself was acting on direction of the Fourth District Court of Appeals.

THE SUPERVISORS will have to grant a rehearing once it is applied for, according to Leo Deagan of the Riverside County Counsel's office. This rehearing will have to be on the basis of land use only.

The original hearing conducted by the supervisors saw testimony admitted which described horse racing as a moral question, and this later was the basis for the successful court fight of the Desert Turf Club in securing the revocation of the 1955 decision.

THE DESERT TURF Club applied for the land use permit after receiving a permit from the California Horse Racing Board. It was approved by the county planning commission, and then turned down by the supervisors.

Judge Findlay heard the first appeal by the Turf Club, and upheld the supervisors. His decision was then reversed by the appellate court.

The proposed track, which would also be used for civic gatherings and sports car races, is located on the east side of Del Sol Road, between Tamarisk Road and Avenue 40.

Smoking in Bed Causes $3000 Hotel Damage

A fire, possibly caused by smoking in bed, resulted in an estimated $3,000 in damage late Wednesday evening before being brought under control by firemen from both stations.

Four upstairs rooms were extensively damaged by the flames at Desert Hotel, 285 North Indian Avenue, which were first noticed at 11:12 p.m., by Al Taylor.

In his room at the time of the fire was Sidney E. Shanno, 45, who was later charged by police with drunkenness, and who has since been committed to a state institution as a habitual drunkard. It is believed to have been his cigarette which started the blaze, firemen said.

Firemen remained at the scene about an hour and half.

Owners of the hotel are Mr. and Mrs. John Reed, who recently purchased it from Hy Cahn.

Orderly Prowler Breaks Into Home Of Jack Benny

Swimming in the pool of a celebrity, together with a thirst, appeared today to be the motives for a break-in at the home of Jack Benny, 987 Palos Verdes, police reported.

The swim was had by the intruder, but he was thwarted in his search for liquor as none was in the house.

Entry to the house was made twice, through kitchen and bedroom doors. No apparent reason can be found for the double entry.

A search was made of the house by the intruder, but it was orderly with items not thrown around.

The intruder also believed in comfort, as he used the cooler and left it on when he departed.

The break-in was discovered by Dominic McGee, a local gardener, at 6:37 a.m. Thursday.

Village Business Permit Renewal Deadline Tuesday

Village businessmen have only two more days in which to renew their business licenses, or face a penalty of 10 per cent. City Clerk Louise McCann warned today.

Tuesday, July 31, is the renewal deadline. Starting Wednesday a 10 per cent penalty will be added. More than half of all licenses have been renewed to date with others coming in daily.

Approximately 1,800 licenses are issued annually.

Perkins Murder Trial Opens in Indio Monday

Interest of Palm Springs residents will be focused this week on Judge Hilton McCabe's Superior Court in Indio, where the trial of Laurence Perkins, who is charged with the murder of his wife, Inez, is scheduled to start today, Monday.

Perkins was arrested shortly after the May 31 slaying of his wife. She was killed by blows from a hatchet on her head, while she lay outside their trailer home. The husband has claimed that he was asleep in the trailer at the time, was awakened and saw an intruder run from the scene.

The murder occurred on the evening before the couple's second wedding anniversary.

DESSERT COUNTY IN THE YEAR 2007

SAYS ARCHEOLOGIST

Jimmy Brewer lately of Navajo National Monument foresees in the dim future Icelandic archeological expeditions to the ruined cities of America. He predicts that they will be bewildered by the finding of small white porcelain objects, four in the desert, and six and eight in the corroded foundations of ancient cities. They will always be found in a row and will be assigned some unknown ceremonial value. In other words, brother, the porcelain of our sparkplugs will outlast our civilization.

Whose fellows from Iceland are sure to refer to this era as Harry Oliver's Desert County era.

I have the story in a Holland Gin bottle, (an everlasting porcelain bottle). Funny, the bottle will last but the Gin is long gone.

Penny Carnival Plans Talked at DHS Meeting

DESERT HOT SPRINGS — Preliminary plans for the 1956 Penny Carnival were discussed last Thursday evening at a buffet supper given poolside at the Tamarix Motel by the carnival committee.

Representatives of local civic, church and club groups attended. The carnival, which this year will be held Sept. 1, is sponsored by the auxiliary of the Angel View Crippled Children's Foundation. All proceeds of this year's carnival will go toward construction, on the foundation's hospital site in Miracle Heights, of a therapeutic pool.

"Pool Your Pennies for a Pool" is to be this year's carnival slogan.

"One hundred per cent co-operation" has been pledged by all DHS organizations, according to John J. (Bud) Krotter, carnival committee chairman, and Lola Hemingway, president of the AVCCF auxiliary.

Features of the carnival will include a queen contest, a free street dance, and booths for entertainment, food and drinks, sponsored by local organizations.

Hearing Aug. 20 On 3-Way Shift In County Zoning

A hearing has been set by the county board of supervisors to be held at 10 a.m., August 20, on a proposed zoning amendment ordinance.

Three phases will be covered by the proposed amendment. No. 1, a requirement that all existing junk and auto wrecking yards be appropriately fenced by July 1, 1958 to conform to fencing requirements on new yards.

No. 2, requirements for automobile storage space and loading space at time of erection of any main building or structure or whenever any main structure is enlarged, and a provision that adequate loading space be provided and maintained on the same lot with buildings used for manufacturing, storage, warehousing, hotel, hospital, laundry, dry cleaning, goods display, department store, wholesale store, market, etcetera.

No. 3, a provision that an M-3 permit must be obtained for establishment of a trailer park in a W-2 (watershed, conservation and recreation) zone.

All the proposed amendments would be applicable in unincorporated areas of the county.

Highway Deaths In 1955 Topped Korean War's

CHICAGO — More Americans died on the highway in 1955 alone than on the battlefield during the entire Korean War.

The National Safety Council's statistical year-book, "Accident Facts," just off the press, shows there were 38,300 traffic deaths in the United States in 1955. Official Defense Department records list the battle deaths in the Korean War at 33,629.

"We don't for a moment want to imply that the highway is as hazardous as the battlefield," said Ned H. Dearborn, president of the Council. "But the fact is that the loss to the nation from the 1955 traffic toll is greater in terms of human life than the loss sustained in the Korean War. Therefore, it's certainly worth getting excited about."

Approximately 1,350,000 Americans were injured in motor vehicle accidents during the year, the Council said.

Trade Secrets Called Discarded Ideas of Others

SAN DIEGO—"Too many people are afraid their competitors are going to find out their trade secrets," H. C. Heard, Los Angeles General Manager, Poultry Cooperative Association of Southern California, recently told delegates of California's 360 farm cooperatives.

Speaking before the 37th annual meeting of the Agricultural Council of California, Heard added, "These people don't realize trade secrets often are merely operating methods discarded by their competitors years ago."

He also stressed the importance of trade or organizational publications in keeping members and employees informed. These, he said, should carry the policies, conditions, and all other pertinent information concerning the company.

"We should not worry about our competitors gaining information from these publications. Instead we should learn from one another and look toward the improvement of our own organization, not worrying about his."

a year or more in a single location.

The study showed that while in 1937 about half of all trailers were used by vacationers, by 1955 this figure had shrunk to less than one per cent.

Of the three largest groups of trailer dwellers in 1955, 63 per cent consisted of persons in mobile or semi-mobile occupations such as construction work.

Hemet Invites Fair Entries

Demonstrations in the production of ceramics and in the newer popular art of copper embossing will be added attractions for visitors to the arts and crafts department of the Farmers' Fair at Hemet, August 22 through 26.

New classes in handicrafts, announced by division superintendent Mrs. Dirk Van De Graff, include china painting and wood fiber items.

Handicraft competition at the Farmers' Fair, which features one of the finest shows of smaller fairs in Southern California, is open to all exhibitors. But entries by professionals, shop owners, teachers, etc., will be displayed on a non-competitive basis only, Mrs. Van De Graff said. And such entries will be limited to two for each exhibitor.

Persons interested in ceramics; leather craft; pottery; hand built or wheel turned pieces; china painting; metal craft, carved or inlaid wood or wood fiber items, were urged by Mrs. Van De Graff to enter the competition now.

Premium books and entry blanks are available at the Hemet Fairgrounds office, Box 398, Hemet, and will be mailed upon request.

DESERT CHURCH OF RELIGIOUS SCIENCE

Announces Summer Meeting Change
Services will be conducted by Rev. Douglas Jones Bintliff through the summer, every Sunday at 8:15 p.m., in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lester J. Mohr, 609 S. Indian Trail, Palm Springs.
Services are conducted Sunday evenings all year, and broadcast over KCMJ at 9:15 to 9:30 a.m. every Sunday morning.

Judge and Mrs. Eugene E. Theriault and family spent the weekend in Long Beach visiting at the home of his father, J. D. Theriault.

Rev. Reuning To Preach First Sermon Sunday

On Sunday morning the Rev. Walter H. Reuning, newly installed pastor of Our Savior's Lutheran Church, will preach his introductory sermon. Its theme will be "Growing Up in Christ." His text will be from St. Paul's letter to the Ephesians, that great book on the church, where the ministry is called a gift of God for the building of His church. The new pastor will use pastorate here, that both congregation and pastor continue to grow and mature in Christ.
The Rev. LeRoy Hass, former pastor of the congregation, has arrived with his family in Tokyo, Japan. He will continue his work there as a Christian missionary. The early worship schedule will remain in effect this Sunday. Sunday school will begin at 8:30 a.m., and Divine Worship at 9:15 a.m.

Betsy McKinney, Billy Ingram and Virgie Dragicevich were in Los Angeles for the weekend. They saw the stage show "Damn Yankees."

Frank Cary to Conduct Sunday Worship Service at Community

This Sunday at 9:30, the morning worship service will be conducted by Frank Cary at the Community church. Cary, the adult Sunday School teacher, has been a resident of Palm Springs for four years, coming originally from Canada. His subject for the morning will be "A Highway Shall Be There."

The Sunday worship services of August 5, 12 and 19 will be conducted by the Rev. William S. Stoddard, who will be giving a series on "The Fruit of the Spirit." Activities for the Community Church high school-college age young people have held just a bit fascinating and original. Saturday saw them up bright and early for one of those outdoor breakfasts at Pion Flats. Wednesday evening, after prayer meeting, they all scattered on a treasure hunt that ended up with much boasting on the part of Alvalee Anderson, Nancy Gardner, and especially Jerry Ann Luke for finding the treasure.

Tony Perkins and Tab Hunter spent last weekend in Palm Springs as guests of Bob Taliaferro. While here, they visited their friend, Pat Fitzgerald, at the Ranch Club.

'Love' Announced as Science Lesson

God's love for man and His care of him is emphasized by Christ Jesus, the founder of Christianity in the Lesson-Sermon on "Love" when he says in Luke's Gospel (12:27, 29-31): "Consider the lilies, how they grow: they toil not, they spin not; and yet I say unto you, that Solomon in all his glory was not arrayed like one of these. . . . And seek not ye what ye shall eat, or what ye shall drink, . . . Your Father knoweth that ye have need of these things. But rather seek ye the kingdom of God; and all these things shall be added unto you."

The Golden Text from Jeremiah (9:24) also stresses man's need for spirituality. "Let him that glorieth glory in this, that he understandeth and knoweth me, that I am the Lord which exercise loving kindness, judgment, and righteousness, in the earth."

MESSAGE FROM VENUS?

Perhaps those folks up at Joshua Tree who say they have been receiving messages from outer space are not just letting their imaginations run wild after all. From Columbus, Ohio, comes the report that new radio signals which presumably originate on Venus have been received by an Ohio State University radio astronomer. The findings were made by Dr. John D. Kraus who said that the signals resemble radio telegraphy in many ways and "that whatever phenomenon is responsible must be of rather complex type."

Sufficiently numerous and varied observations have been made, Dr. Kraus said, to make it appear quite likely that they do come from Venus. The interplanetary people in the high desert have gone a step farther by attempting to translate the signals which, of course, is carrying the thing pretty far—not to mention the claim of some that they have seen space ships land up there. Anyway it seems quite plausible that some of the planets may be inhabited—and that they may be trying to contact the earth.

"The ultimate triumph belongs to the South," observes the Atlanta (Ga.) Constitution, pointing out that 91 years after Appomattox the forces of the Confederacy have outlasted those of the Union by three to one.

In the hands-across-the-Mason-Dixon Line gesture, Congress has voted that gold medals be awarded the four surviving veterans of the Civil War—called the War Between the States down there. Each of the veterans is over 100 years old and of the four only one is a Union veteran.

Visitors "Down South" soon learn that arguments over that war, its purpose and conduct are nearly as fresh now as when it broke out nearly a century ago.

Newspapers across the nation were lamenting the passing of the "Greatest Show on Earth" last week as Ringling Brothers, Barnum and Bailey circus pulled down the big tent for the last time and announced that it may never go up again. Circuses as we have known them under the big top may now be a thing of the past and the romance of the sawdust trail only a memory. The circus will show in large auditoriums in the big cities, it was announced; but the kids in the little towns throughout the country have lost one of their greatest entertainment thrills.

Meanwhile, down in Sarasota, Florida, where the big show has winter quarters, the circus-loving citizens are trying to work out a plan for setting up the big tent there as a tourist attraction. But that would be a long way for most people to go to see a show that is losing its punch anyway. Even though the circus may survive in one form or another the Big Show as children and grown-ups have known it for 50 years is probably a thing of the past.

DAMAGE AWARDS
(Detroit News)

Damage awards for personal injuries are not subject to the Federal income tax but whether juries may receive this information in the form of instructions from the judge is another matter. Some lawyers, representing defendants in damage cases, have recently begun asking courts to include this information in instructions to juries, probably on the basis that smaller awards would be made if juries were aware of the fact that the money was exempt from taxation.

Courts in Iowa, Illinois, Ohio and Texas have held that such information cannot be given. One court mentioned that "such instructions would be little different from one relating to an expense, such as attorney's fees which may or may not have to be paid out of an award." The Supreme Court of Missouri, on the other hand, has held that the defendant is entitled to such an instruction, reversing its former negative rule.

Sign of a Great Man
Pineville (La.) News

The latest edition of "Who's Who in America," the twenty-ninth volume of this famous work, contains a short sketch of the life of President Dwight D. Eisenhower. In other words, as Eisenhower's fame increases and his accomplishments pile up, he seems to shorten his biography in "Who's Who in America."

Perhaps this is significant. We wonder if it is a reflection of the fact that the bigger a man gets, the greater he stresses simplicity, frankness and the genuine. We like to think so, anyhow.

Red Sunset
Mount Holly (N.C.) News

Now that Kruschew & Co., in Moscow, have foreclosed on Stalin's reputation and are desperately working to make a bum out of him—so the grumbling multitudes will have someone to blame for their misery—and since the Treasury Department in surprise raids around the U.S. has given the Communist Party and its voice, the Daily Worker, the old Capone treatment—the clouds may be lifting.

We may yet see a Red sunset.

Americanization of Canada
Brantford (Ontario, Canada) Expositor

There is much talk of the "Americanization" of Canada. Yet so far the evidence of this supposed trend is mostly trivial, superficial and unconvincing. It rarely goes beyond pointing to such imports as gum-chewing, coke-drinking, comic books, hot dogs, so-called drug stores, radio and TV commercials and similar visible manifestations of American penetration. No one has yet shown that American ways and ideas have made an impact at the deeper levels of Canadian life where the true character of a nation is to be found....

Proper Punishment
Phillips (Wisc.) Bee

Action which a judge takes relative to traffic violations, as recorded in a recent issue of a magazine, should offer food for thought for all of us. In the article, statements are made that when a person comes before this judge on a

Trying to Get It Off the Ground

THIS SIDE of The Sun

By Phat

We're lucky in Palm Springs. Perhaps, I just think so because I'm not on any sucker lists. But in the many happy years I've spent on the desert, I'd almost forgotten how to frustrate the "Foot in the Door" clan. The house-to-house solicitors who have everything to meet every need. There are few in the Village.

Through the years, Mrs. G. and I have made it a practice to support those who support our economy—the advertisers in the newspaper I work for. In the past 15 years, The Desert Sun. We shunned any door-to-door salesmen and women of out-of-town products, preferring to trek to Village marts.

THEREFORE, after becoming ensconced in this summer beach home, I had to learn all over again how to say "no" when the doorbell rang. Because they are here in droves. Two or three times each day some eager beaver is at the threshold trying to ease in to expound some product. Sometimes they work in pairs, one talking and the other walking toward the door.

Vacuum cleaners, refrigerators, insurance, stoves, carpets, gadgets for the car, gadgets for the TV and radio, paint jobs, all sorts of things.

IT GOT SO that when the doorbell rang I'd put aside the morning paper, walk to the door and blurt: "We don't want any. We have plenty." That worked fine until yesterday. I thought the disappointed salesman backed away hurriedly when I told him we were well supplied.

Then I saw the sign on his auto. "Vermin exterminator."

THE PAY-OFF, however, came in the afternoon. A little old gray-haired lady, (honest) was at the door and I answered a little more politely.

"How old are you?" she started her pitch bluntly.

"Well, lady," I said, "I never gave age a thought until last week when all the candidates for Miss Universe were on display. But, why regret what is?"

"Ever think of the future," she asked next.

I told her I was too busy living down the past and living up the present to bother and, wondering what she was selling, asked why.

She had some nice burial plots in a memorial cemetery.

DOWN HERE at Long Beach most of the downtown streets are one-way and they utilize the scramble system at intersections. You know, all vehicular traffic stops and people cross any old way, kitty-corner, all angles. We've had that scramble system in Palm Springs for years. Without benefit of signal lights. And in the middle of the block, too.

But, returning to the beach. There are so many people here from small midwestern towns that crossing the street diagonally is old hat to them.

AND WHEN red lights flash on and traffic moves again, signs pop up at the corners: "DON'T WALK." Some people take that to mean: "Run!"

They tell me that one woman blithely crossed against one of those "Don't Walk" signs and when a cop roared up, said: "Oh, I'm sorry. I thought that sign was an advertisement for the bus company."

The Length Of Life

THE LENGTH OF LIFE 2 12 1

The problem of the span of life is always an interesting one to the scientist, as well as to the mass of the public.

At this time, we not infrequently state, that life expectancy is around 69 years, but there are some factors that enter into this which only infrequently are given attention by the students who compile our statistics.

One of our prominent geriatric societies has been using a motto in which it states that their aim is to add life to years and not just years to life. This might seem to imply that the years have already been added, but most of the gains have not had to do with so-called improvement in the old people. The fact is that we have more old people who have been allowed to become old because of the great improvement that has occurred in saving life during the early years.

I can well remember when one out of every four new born died within the first year of their lives. Today, that is one out of every 20. In other words, of 100,000 new born, 95,000 will live more than one year.

OF THIS 95,000, only one-half of one per cent will die the second year, and one-quarter of one per cent the third year, and so on until the golden age of 10 is reached, when fewer than 0.1 per cent of persons die. From then on, it is uphill until such an age as 100 when practically half of these survivors die in one year.

Therefore, if one adds together all of the years lived by all of these people, one can decide on an average number of years for everyone, but it is not the length of life for any one member of the group.

For instance, what is life expectancy at age 20, in other words, what statistically should be the fate of those surviving to age 20 of the original group of 100,000? At this age level, 20, 92,000 of the original 100,000 born are still alive, and it becomes necessary to compute the average number of years remaining to the entire group of 92,000.

If we are to go back in the years, taking 1850, life expectancy at birth in that year was 38.3 years. In 1900 it was 48.2 years, and in 1950 it was 66.8 years. This remarkable accomplishment, however, has taken place primarily because more infants survive to create more man years to the overall success of man as a living creature.

THE BULK OF HUMAN mortality has been, and still is, in the first year of life, but suppose the 5,000 lost infants that we computed from the 100,000 are saved, and each lives a full 70 years. Altogether, they would add 350,000 years to the seven million years we have computed for the 100,000, which would increase life expectancy for the entire group only three years.

Most of the improvement has occurred among the young, with the control of infections, the better management of diabetes, and rheumatic heart disease, etc. It is estimated that the new sulfa drugs and antibiotics have added nearly seven years to life expectancy.

Yes, this is a golden age for young infants, for people with infections at any age, and people in tragic danger, excluding automobile accidents.

To the Editor:

I want to express to you my sincere thanks for all your wonderful help in the campaign. There was so much to do and you were most generous with your time and effort in my behalf.

Newspaper and magazine support played a most important role in the overwhelming victory in Palm Springs, and I want you to know I deeply appreciate your assistance.

I hope you feel, as I most certainly do, that the victory is one which we share together. Only with your continued invaluable support for the remainder of the campaign can we win on November 6th.

Talk about weather with most any person in the great Northwest during the Summer time and they will invariably ask: "How can you stand that hot weather in Palm Springs during the Summer time?"

Have found that it is a waste of oral effort to convince people in Portland, Seattle, Vancouver or San Francisco that a temperature of 100 to 115 on the desert is equal to an 85 to 95 degree heat in those cities.

And I had a taste of sweet victory when the temperatures in those cities with the exception of San Francisco (during this trip) hit a high which ranged from 95 in Vancouver, B.C. to 107 in Portland and approximately 100 degree of utterly sticky weather in Seattle. The victory boomeranged, though, despite agreement on the part of some with whom we had discussed the pros and cons of weather. Yours truly became so ill due to the high degree of humidity the victory was more or less a hollow one. Less because I had the last laugh.

BACKWARD OVER our itinerary must recall my visit with Mr. Jack Herman, father of Bud and Al, both of whom operate hotels in our fair city. The elder Herman who is way beyond middle age is a driving dynamo of perpetual motion. Gained the impression that he will not hearken to the admonitions of his sons and his lovely wife to take it slow and easy.

In the block long Ford building which he operates Dad Herman, as I have called him since we first met years ago, he did say that within the next three or four years: "I think I will retire—maybe." He took me on a conducted tour of this giant building and I noticed that every inch of space was occupied from the basement to the top floor.

And if you should ever decide to visit Vancouver, B.C., and find that hotel accommodations are unobtainable, reservations to this or that cannot be had—just call Mr. Jack Herman at the Ford building. He is so well known in that great Canadian city—well doors just open for you. That's all. Thanks Mr. and Mrs. Jack Herman.

MUST ALSO RECALL my conversation with Ben Shearer in Seattle. Although most of our conversation centered around golf and the game's value to Palm Springs, Ben came up with a proposal which is of almost equal value to this city—a convention hall.

El Mirador hotel during the past two years has accomplished a terrific job in securing conventions for that hostelry. Ted Radcliff, a pro in knowing just how to go about getting groups to meet at El Mirador will top all of his previous records this coming season. In view of the conventions already booked this hotel will remain open longer than ever since it reopened.

But that's only part of the story. Believe me, hotels and restaurants in Palm Springs are as vitally interested in the number of conventions El Mirador has throughout a Winter season as are the hotel owners. Other hotels are interested because El Mirador can only accommodate so many persons. There's that overflow and what an overflow it has been at times, filled to capacity several hotels in the city.

THAT MEANS revenue for the smaller hotels and tax money for the city. The restaurants and night club owners have also handsomely profited. Throughout the Winter season merchants, hotels, restaurants and night club owners constantly single my unsightly figure out to ask:

"Is there a convention taking place at El Mirador? How big is it (meaning how many people are in attendance)?" If I do not know at the moment I call Ted or Frank Bogert for the information.

So you see conventions do mean a great deal to Palm Springs. And Ben Shearer's suggestions that something be done about building a convention hall, if bigger conventions are to be held in Palm Springs, is a good one. "It could very well be erected at the Polo Grounds," Shearer said. Eventually Palm Springs, a natural setting for conventions, will need a convention hall. Personally know that several conventions during the past two years have passed up Palm Springs because it lacked just such a facility where giant meetings could be held and for the display of industrial wares which quite often are a part of big conventions.

FOR MORE THAN 200 miles along Highway 101, where cool sea breezes blow, our gas buggy was tailed by the Guadalupe Boys, winter favorites at the Doll House. The boys waved and shouted greetings at us every time our automobile came within hearing distance.

Ever heard about a village called Sedro-Wooley, Washington? Will have to write a piece about that burg and two former Villagers who are in business there now—Mickey and Helen Hannon who own the Gateway Cafe.

And the lunch counter acquaintance near Bellingham whose father formerly owned part of the Odlum Ranch near Indio. Should be a good story.

Will say so long for today.

EARL WILSON:

Don't Rush to See Russia

VILNA, LITHUANIA — I am leaving the Soviet now after 23 days and 6,500 miles of it and my advice to American tourists is, "Don't be in any rush to see Russia."

Russia's Intourist travel agency isn't equipped—yet—to handle you, American style.

It's strangled in Red Russia's red tape.

You can go "almost anywhere" you wish... but you can't see people. I wanted to interview a Russian movie star. Intourist and the Ministry of Culture discovered there wasn't a Russian movie star in Moscow, a city supposedly of 7,000,000, the "Hollywood of Russia."

"It's one of those coincidences that happens everyday here," one permanent correspondent said.

I TRIED PHONING Toos Shor at his summer place in Deal, N.J.

"Sorry, the press reserved all the time for New York calls today," they told me.

Actually, the press didn't make one New York call that day. I booked the call for the next day.

"Sorry, but all the time is reserved for today and tomorrow."

Disgusted, I went to the Central Telegraph Agency, got help from a newspaperman, and got the call through in 40 minutes.

Why? But there are many such mysteries. One friend told me that three letters to him from the U.S. had just been swallowed up... Simply never got to him.

One innocent cable to me reminding me I was to help judge the "Miss Universe" contest in Long Beach, likewise got "lost."

EACH MORNING the American "de luxe" tourists paying $30 to $40 a day gather at the "service bureau" for their daily battle with Intourist.

There they wait endlessly to make appointments with somebody whose phone number Intourist can't get.

I was supposed to deliver a box of cigars sent by Producer Mike Todd to Gregory Alexandrov of Mosfilms. But Mr. Alexandrov was at his "dacha" or country place where he had no phone. After a week, I gave up.

Our arrival was unforgettable. We got to Moscow in the middle of the night, a little scared of the place—with not a soul to meet us.

Yet they seemed to try hard.

And I feel that under the capable coaching of Gabriel Reiner of Cosmos Travel Bureau in New York they will be in better shape next year to handle the swarms of Yankees.

WE'D BE NAIVE, though, to expect that Communist guides would show or tell us anything that would hurt them.

One woman guide eloquently recited how she worked only because she was bored at home; how her husband objected to her working.

Poor prevaricator! Without the two salaries, the two couldn't live.

It was the most fascinating trip I ever took. I'm glad I went, if just to see the beautiful children. I'm also glad to go back where I came from. Would it be corny though if, for this year, I said, "See America first?"

THE MIDNIGHT EARL. Sarah Churchill's ex, Tony Beauchamp, is Doretta Morrow's newest, most ardent admirer... Time's swell piece on Rex Harrison confirms that he and Lilli Palmer are legally separated, with Kay Kendall of course his current "Fair Lady"... John Denton, once a crack rewrite man, was upped to Editor of Newsweek... Siegi Sessler, the London publisher, gave an engagement rock to Barbara Anderson.

New Goldwynism (really true) Sam met David Miller, the director, on the east-bound Queen Mary in mid-Atlantic and exclaimed, "aveD, are you going to Europe?"... The NY Times' Moscow man, Jack Raymond, is coming home after 10 years abroad... Rita Hayworth and Jack Lemmon sometimes console each other.

EX-CHAMP TONY Canzoneri has Eli Basse whipping up his night club act... Mae West'll star in "The Empress," a film about Catherine the Great... Jerry Lewis is getting "partnership" offers from singers... Terry Moore'll be the only gal in "Between Heaven and Hell."

Producers of "Best House in Naples" auditioned 50 girls for a flat-chested role. (One boasted she'd been Grace Kelly's stand-in)... Red Skelton complained about the hold advertisers have on TV: "It's getting more important to sell the sponsor's wife than to sell the sponsor's product."

Miss Heyer, Wagner Wed At Berkeley

Jacqueline Louise Heyer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John DeLay Heyer of Palm Springs, and Kenneth Eugene Wagner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Wagner of Napa, exchanged wedding vows at Trinity Methodist Church in Berkeley. Dr. F. Marion Smith performed the rites.

The wedding party was preceded down the aisle by Jean Llewellyn and Nancy Tomlinson as candlelighters, and Kathleen and Jennifer Richards as flower girls. The bride wore a waltz-length white Chantilly lace over satin gown. An orange blossom crown held her tulle veil, and she carried a cascade of white butterfly orchids and stephanotis.

Mary McReynolds was maid of honor, and the two bridesmaids were Jan Duffel and Lois Latino-vich. They wore pink dotted Swiss dresses, pink gloves, and wreaths of corn flowers completed their costumes. They carried white baskets of pink carnations.

Best man was Gerald Stoodley, and ushers were Kenneth Clark, William Sturman and John Freeman. Lloyd Wingerd, former baritone soloist at Trinity Church, New York, sang "O Perfect Love" prior to the entry of the bride and groom, both attired in blue lace gowns and hats, greeted the many guests.

The young couple attended the University of California. The bride first enrolled at Occidental College, where she was a member of Zeta Tau Zeta. Prior to her UC graduation, she affiliated with Alpha Chi Omega Sorority.

Sun Valley, Idaho, was the newlyweds honeymoon destination. The reception was held at the Berkeley Women's City Club where the mothers of the bride and groom, both attired in blue lace gowns and hats, greeted the many guests.

Officials Visit Verbena Chapter, Rebekah Lodge

Deputy District President Ruth Hughes of the Rebekah Lodge and her marshal, Helen Niemeyer of Del Rosa, making an inspection and educational trip, were present when the lodge's Verbena Chapter of Desert Hot Springs met at Oleander Hall.

Mrs. Hughes reported on the home for the aged at Saratoga, California, and the children's home at Gilroy, which are jointly supported by the IOOF and the Rebekahs. She emphasized the responsibility of lodge members "as Rebekahs to take part in community service and aid to the afflicted."

The chapter's Noble Grand Florence Cunningham was welcomed back from a visit, accompanied by her husband, to her sister in Tacoma, Washington. On the day following the meeting Mr. and Mrs. Cunningham left for San Diego, where they will spend the balance of the summer.

Nilan O. Hagels Return to Village After Honeymoon Trip to Minnesota

Corporal and Mrs. Nilan O. Hagel, (she is the former Jean Etta Place of Palm Springs) have returned from their honeymoon trip to Faribault, Minnesota.

The young couple exchanged wedding vows Sunday, July 8, at the Community Church, with Dr. James Blackstone, Jr., officiating at the double ring ceremony. The bride, daughter of Mrs. Mildred Place of Palm Springs, wore a summer frock of pink nylon and cotton faille, fashioned along long torso lines with numerous pin tucks, cap sleeves and a wide white collar, high in front and extending into a low neck line in back, a bandeau hat of pink straw studded with pearls and a pink tulle nose veil. A corsage of white Boverdia tied with pink ribbon was worn on her dress.

The bride's mother was her daughter's matron of honor, and Miss Place was given in marriage by her brother, Sergeant Harry M. Place, Jr., of the United States Marine Corps.

The bridegroom, son of Mrs. Minnie Hagel of Faribault, Minnesota, had as his best man, Leonard R. Place, another brother of the bride.

TRIM INCHES FROM YOUR HIPS... THIGHS, TUMMY, LEGS with the STAUFFER HOME PLAN

Excess weight often is measured in inches, not pounds. Normally, you can't redistribute your weight and lose equally all over, on diet alone. Those extra pounds seem to leave last from areas where they have existed longest. The passive exercise and caloric reduction of the STAUFFER HOME PLAN will trim those stubborn inches from certain areas like hips, tummy, thighs and legs... beautifies your posture, firms and tightens muscles... and gives you the lovelier figure you desire.

BATHING YOUR DOG

by Bob Bartos
Manager, Friskies Research Kennels

Most dogs take to water like flies to honey—except when instinct tells them it's time for a bath. They will play with children for hours, running through the water of a pond, lake or ocean and chasing a thrown ball. But put your dog in a tub or sink and reach for the soap. Suddenly you've got a small riot on your hands.

There is at least one consolation in this display of unwillingness. It doesn't happen very often.

Dog of the Week:
BASSET HOUND.

Hound dog. Average weight: 40 pounds. Shoulder height: 14 inches. Coat: Short, dense, hard and glossy. Color: Any hound color; usually black, tan and white.

often, because you shouldn't bathe your pet too often.

A dog should be bathed only when necessary—when he's really dirty or has fleas or lice. With frequent combing, a dog generally should be bathed not more than once every four or five weeks. Smooth-coated dogs need not be bathed even that often.

If your dog really puts up a struggle, here are a few tips which may make the bathing chore easier: Put a rubber mat in the sink or tub to keep the pet from slipping. Gently stuff absorbent cotton in his ears. Put a few drops of castor oil, white petroleum jelly, or mineral oil in the dog's eyes. Use a soft or liquid soap. Use water that is only slightly hotter than lukewarm, and rinse well.

Drying your dog varies according to season. In summer it isn't necessary to dry him completely. Just put him outdoors and let him shake the water out. In winter, however, thorough, complete drying is a must. Don't let him outside for at least three hours after bathing. A good idea in winter is to wash your dog at night, so that he'll be sure to be dry before he goes outside.

Feeding Tip: Be sure your dog has sufficient water. Water is as essential as protein. A dog will die sooner without water than without food. He should always have a pan of water from which he can drink at will.

Cities Disagree On Use Of Curfew Law To Fight Youth Delinquency

CHICAGO — A big problem now confronting many American cities and towns is the enactment of curfew laws, or the enforcement of existing curfew regulations to combat juvenile delinquency.

Authorities seem to disagree as to whether they are necessary, or even effective in preventing teenage crime.

Lt. Michael Delaney, head of Chicago's Crime Prevention Bureau, is convinced that curfew enforcement, especially in large cities, is an important factor in eliminating delinquency.

"Although there is more involved than merely setting up a deadline when children under specific ages must be off the street,"

Delaney said, "it is, nevertheless, a start in the right direction."

CHICAGO NOW has enforced curfew laws requiring children under 16 to be off the streets by 10:30 p.m. Sunday through Thursday, and 11:30 p.m. on Friday and Saturday.

Delaney is trying to raise the age limit to include the 16-year-old, as "this age group causes the most trouble." It is the age when many leave school.

On the average, 200 juveniles are picked up by Chicago police every month, although the figure is considerably more during the spring and summer months.

Under present procedure, the child is immediately turned over to a juvenile officer, and his parents are called in to explain why their youngster is out in violation of the curfew ordinance.

IN THE CASE of a first offense, the parent or guardian is given a warning, but in cases of repetition where a lack of cooperation is apparent, they can be summoned to court and fined.

Only one such case reached the court during 1955, Delaney said. However, the one represents only those children who violated the curfew law and does not include the number picked up on the more serious charges of auto theft, drinking, purse-snatching, etc.

In a study of curfew ordinances in Florida, the American Municipal Association singled out several worthy findings.

Of the 260 Florida municipalities sent questionnaires, 57 of those responding have curfew ordinances. The largest number enacted in any single year came in 1943, apparently due to war-time conditions.

THE MOST COMMON time set for young people to be off the streets was 10 p.m., while the most frequent age limits were 16 to 17.

Although youthful vandalism takes place mostly at night, one community found that most such acts occurred during daylight hours and on week ends. Another town found that only 14 per cent of delinquent activity took place after 9 p.m.

Most authorities agree that curfew alone will not adequately combat juvenile delinquency. Just as important, if not more so, is the provision for recreation programs.

Conditions causing anti-social conditions among the younger people must be examined and corrections made accordingly.

Municipal leaders believe that curfews are useful chiefly as devices to focus the attention of adults and children on the desirability of children being off the streets late at night.

This opinion, of course, requires that the law enforcement powers be sufficient to enable police to apprehend any youngster or group of young people who are out late.
